KEMALIST TROOPS, HEADED FOR THRACE. BARRED FROM CONSTANTINOPLE BY ALLIES

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The allied missions reached an unanimous decision today forbidding the Kemal gendarmerie destined for Thrace to enter Constantinople. The British navy has been ordered to stop all vessels bearing Turkish national colors.

FARMERS FIRST TO GET SUBSTANTIAL RECOGNITION IN NEW ERA, SAYS HARDING

WASHINGTON, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Belief that the farmer will be the first to get substantial recognition in a "new era of activity and prosperity" now on the way, was expressed by President Harding in a letter written to Secretary Wallace of the agriculture department and made public today at the White House. It was forwarded to the secretary to be read late today at a meeting of Republicans in Washington Court House, Ohio.

"Agricultural production is very nearly restored, taking the world as a whole, but agriculture prices are so low, that it is apparent to all of us that the farmer is not being compensated," the president said.

"The Washington administration has recognized this condition and has done everything in its power to restore a normal balance between prices and costs of production."

The executive further declared a great deal already had been accomplished toward that end and added that the trend was "strongly toward better conditions for the farmer."

Morris Will Probably Keep Mum Next Time

NEW YORK, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Morris Leventis was fined $1 a word by a magistrate today for a five word remark he was charged with having made in reference to Miss Gladys Edwards when a strong wind was blowing in Central Park. The charge was disorderly conduct.

Salesman Robbed Of Diamonds

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Max Moser, New York jewelry salesman, who told the police last night that he had been robbed of $30,000 worth of unset diamonds was questioned again today at the detective bureau where he was held until morning while police investigated his story.

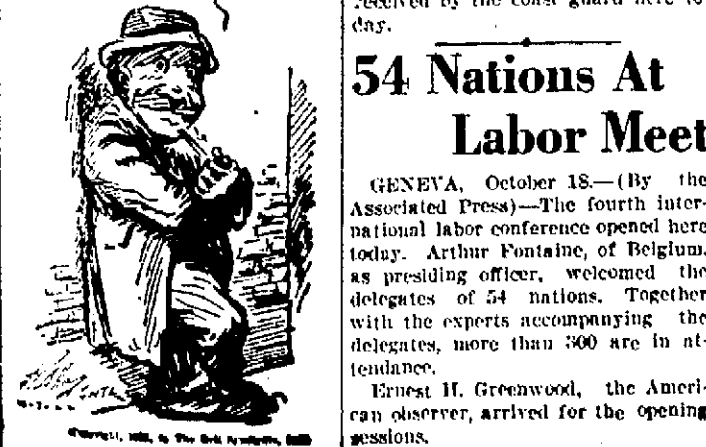

Moser said that as he was leaving a prominent downtown hotel with a friend last night, three bandits jumped on the running board of his friend's automobile and forced them to drive into a residence section, where about 250 unset diamonds ranging from one to six carats were taken. Moser said he was en route to a depot to take a train to Cincinnati.

The total loss in robberies of diamond brokers and salesmen in Chicago during the last two years amounts to more than $2,000,000 according to police reports.

TERMS OF ENDEARMENT FOUND IN LOVE LETTERS SAID TO HAVE BEEN WRITTEN TO RECTOR BY MRS. MILLS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A second series of the letters said to have been written by Mrs. Eleanor Mills, wife of the church sexton, and their leader to the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, was made public today by the authorities as they continued their efforts to solve the mystery of the slaying of the couple.

Addressed and unsigned, the letters are filled with terms of endearment. In them, the minister is often referred to as "Sweet, Adorable Babykins." They speak of "a love nest of a woman's dreams of true love," and describe the varied moods of a woman "loved and loving without the conventions."

Extracts from the letters follow: "Dearest, Dearest Boy, wasn't I happy to find a sweet note, for I didn't expect you would risk leaving one for me yesterday. Such delicious caresses."

"My darling how well you seem today * * * I am tired—want to lie * * * and rest for hours."

"Oh, you sweet, adorable babykins of mine."

"The note I left yesterday was crumpled but I had to hide it in my small orange purse, as I met him."

"* * * I'd build a waiting love nest * * *"

"People would mean nothing. I had rather watch the bugs and ants as they crawl along. Don't you love to watch an ant as it creeps along, honey?"

"And darling sweetheart * * * I long for our love to be the truest—ideal—as pure as we can make it, for then it is truest to nature."

"* * * I know I'm a crazy cat * * *"

"Darling mine—did not you hear me purring * * * blissfully contented and close to you too?"

"Sweetheart, my true heart, I could crush you. Oh, I am wild tonight."

"One time I told you I hated your work, I hated your parish. I guess it is because I am jealous of it, because it must come first in your life. Not because of conventions, but because you love it so. You are a true priest—born for it."

"I have the greatest of all blessings—a noble man's deep, true eternal love and my heart is his—my life is his—all I have is his * * * I am his forever."

"I will hate the winter nights; then I dream of curling in a chair with you—oh, what dreams I have. Will it ever be?"

"I am holding my sweet babykins face in my hands and looking deep into his heart and reading there the message that makes me live—gives me strength and life."

PASSENGERS ARE RESCUED

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—All the 247 passengers have been safely transferred from the Clyde Steamer Leona to the Steamer Arapahoe and efforts to float the Leona which went aground yesterday are continuing, according to the United States wireless station at Anastasia Island. Two large lighters have arrived to assist in the operation and a large tug has been requested.

Gutted Ship Goes Down

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(A. P.)—With colors flying, the liner City of Honolulu, gutted by fire Thursday, sank in the Pacific yesterday after the coast guard cutter Shawnee had poured 21 shots into the bulk, according to a radiogram received by the coast guard here today.

54 Nations At Labor Meet

GENEVA, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The fourth international labor conference opened here today. Arthur Fontaine, of Belgium, as presiding officer, welcomed the delegates of 54 nations. Together with the experts accompanying the delegates, more than 300 are in attendance.

Ernest H. Greenwood, the American observer, arrived for the opening sessions.

American Indians "White Washed"

KANSAS CITY, MO., October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The gorgeously decorated Indian of pioneer days apparently exists only in motion pictures.

Sans war paints, moccasins, two hundred modern Indians gathered here today for the annual conference of the society of American Indians. They represented virtually all the leading tribes in the United States. "We are trying to be Americans 'white washed' Indians, they explained.

Durnell To Support Donahey For Governor

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—According to a statement from Democratic state headquarters here today, J. W. Durnell, Columbus, one of the nine candidates for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primaries, has said he will support Vic Donahey, the Democratic nominee for governor.

Durnell, says the statement, will support Donahey because "he is a poor man and understands the struggles of the poor."

21 Women Seeking Congress Seats

WASHINGTON.—Twenty-one women candidates are seeking seats in the house of representatives in the election to be held next month. According to reports to party headquarters here, percentage of victories will be nominal.

Girl Offers To Sell Herself To The Highest Bidder

DALLAS, TEXAS, October 18.—(By the United Press)—Rose Palmer, would-be "bond girl," sat up in her bed at her cheap boarding place here today and eagerly waited bids in answer to an offer to sell herself. Despite her weakened condition brought on by an attack of fever, her pretty face was flushed with anticipation.

"I thought at first this was terrible—selling myself—but it's not—it's fun, so far."

Rose offered to sell herself to the highest bidder when her half brother found it impossible to secure a job after he gave up the one he had to take his sick wife to her people in Illinois. Rose is willing to sell herself for a period of years, for life, or get married, she declared.

WOMAN CLAIMS SLAIN TWINS WERE ONLY DOLLS

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Accused by her husband of killing twin babies, which he said were born to her last December, Mrs. Hazel McNally, 24, faced trial here today, claiming the missing twins were nothing more than cleverly constructed dolls, mothered by her until last April to satisfy her husband's ambition to be known in the world as a father.

Both Frank McNally, the 56 year old husband, and his estranged wife, asserted their claims would be proved by witnesses called to testify at the trial.

Guided by lanterns and spurred by McNally's charges, police dug until late last night in the yard of the home where the McNallys formerly lived, searching for the bodies they had been told might be buried there.

McNally declared she told her husband shortly after their marriage that it was impossible for her to become a mother.

"But that failed to still his desire to be a parent," Mrs. McNally said. Finally his mania to pose as a father became so acute that we contrived the hoax."

Mrs. McNally said she and her husband moved to South Bend, Ind., in July and that she left him Sept. 22. All of his wife's story, McNally said "is the desperate defense of a woman who has done away with her children."

John D. At Sanitarium

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today began to enjoy a rest at a local sanitarium, following his arrival last night. He refused to discuss his reasons for treatment. The financier had no appearance of illness.

When asked by newspaper men who, in his opinion, is the richest man in the world, Mr. Rockefeller said: "You can answer that question as well as I can. I don't know of any way to find out."

George Beats Hardwick In Georgia

ATLANTA, October 18.—Walter F. George, former justice of the state supreme court, was overwhelmingly nominated as candidate to become successor to the late United States Senator Thomas E. Watson in yesterday's special Democratic primary, according to complete unofficial returns compiled by the Atlanta Constitution today.

The victory of George marked the second defeat of Governor T. W. Hardwick within a few months, and, according to political observers, showed that the Watson block of votes estimated at 50,000 at full strength, remained intact and voted almost solidly for the former justice.

Of the 100 counties in the state, George carried 125, giving him some 90 more convention votes than required for nomination. Governor Hardwick carried 28 counties with 76 unit votes, Seaborn Wright, 7 counties with 22 unit votes and John R. Cooper none, the newspaper figures showed.

The state Democratic convention meets in Macon, October 28 to confirm the results of yesterday's primary. The convention nomination is considered equivalent to election in the general November election.

Ice In Arctic Worst Since Year 1906

SEATTLE, WASH., October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain (Boyd) Amundsen plans his flight from Wainwright, Alaska, across the north pole next May or June, according to Captain C. S. Cochran, of the coast guard cutter Bear, which was here today from a voyage of 23,000 miles into the Arctic ocean. Captain Amundsen, who left here in the schooner Maud in June, spent much time aboard the Bear in the Arctic.

Ice in the Arctic is the worst since 1906, Captain Cochran reports.

STOCKHOLM.—Twenty-nine members of the crew of the Dutch Steamer Cornelis, were drowned when the ship sank and her life boats disappeared on the rocks on the north shore of the Gulf of Bothnia. The ship went aground several days ago.

Poincare Plans Renewal Of Relations With Lenine And Trotsky

PARIS, October 18.—(By the United Press)—Alliance between Soviet Russia and France was forecast here today. From all indications both in the French press and in semi-official circles it was believed that Premier Poincare has opened the way for renewal of relations with the government of Lenine, which he has opposed bitterly for two years. This was disclosed upon the return of E. Harriot, Mayor of Lyons and the radical Socialist leader in the chamber of deputies, from Soviet Russia, where he has been negotiating with the Soviet leaders presumably with a Franco-Russian alliance in view.

30,000 Legion Men Parade

NEW ORLEANS, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The American Legion following a brisk business session paraded today. More than 30,000 men "fell in" and the brisk autumn air, a contrast to the balmy weather of the first two days of the convention, added zest to the event. It was a day to make one throw out his chest and step out proudly and the buddies, after a night's sleep, were apparently as full of zip as ever and "rain" to go through miles of narrow, stone paved streets, down the broad concourse of Canal street, winding in and out along the tortuous courses of the "vieux carre" (old town) established by the Spanish and French founders of New Orleans, the veterans of 1918 marched today.

Fluttering bravely in the autumn air, borne by the men who carried them to victory four years ago, went the national colors, flanked by the silken, colors of legion posts from every state in the union, from Alaska, Hawaii, the Panama Canal Zone, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Great Britain, Africa and China.

The announcement by Alvin M. Owsly, of Texas, that he would accept the nomination for the national commandery, if it were offered him, appeared to be crystallizing the sentiment of the south.

Pioneer Boy Scouts Saved Passengers

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Roland Belgiano, of Baltimore, Md., 38 years old, second electrician of the Steamer City of Honolulu, is credited with saving the lives of 12 passengers when that liner caught fire at sea last Thursday.

He and Fred Little, 17, a mess boy, worked "shoulder to shoulder" when the fire was discovered, and according to the ship's doctor, were directly responsible for getting many passengers safely from the fire-swept vessel to the life boats.

Complimented on their arrival here the boys explained it all with "Oh, we were trained as Boy Scouts."

"Reduction Of Farm Credits By Harding Regime Bringing Disaster To Country"—McAdoo

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 18.—William G. McAdoo in a speech last night said reduction of farm credits "by the present administration in cooperation with the powerful influences of Wall Street and the blighting effects of President Harding's policies of deflation and normalcy have reduced the country from a condition of unexampled prosperity to a state of appalling disaster."

Mr. McAdoo asserted that the restriction of farm credits under the Republican administration had forced the rapid sale of farm products and live stock to such an extent that the value of those products for the entire country had been reduced from $14,000,000,000 in 1919 to $7,700,000,000 in 1921.

The former cabinet officer said business depression had followed the reduction in consequence of which the farmers and stockmen were "never before in such an unfortunate situation as they are today."

Linked with this to the disadvantage of the farmer and stock man, Mr. McAdoo went on, "was the inauguration of the Republican foreign policy which has reduced export trade more than forty per cent during the first year of the Republican administration."

In addition the speaker said, the Esch-Cummins law had raised railroad fares to a point "where all chance for the farmer and the stockman to get even a meagre profit for their toll was taken away."

Mr. McAdoo advocated a "constructive policy for the restoration of farm prosperity" and recommended "a system of agricultural credits to furnish farmers and stockmen ample credit at reasonable rates, constructive legislation for the protection of

Harry L. Davis Game Preserve

On suggestion of local sportsmen, who felt that it would be a fitting mark of respect, the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Tuesday approved the idea of calling the West Side game refuge the Harry L. Davis Game Reserve.

The matter was placed before the board by Attorney Arthur Bannan who explained that the governor of the state had given considerable of his time and attention to the matter of establishing a state game reserve in this county.

The committee appointed to consider plans for the houses to be built for many new workmen coming to the steel plant reported that nothing definite had been accomplished but that plans were being worked out and that a more complete report would be given at a future meeting.

Missionary Society Elects Officers

The fifty-first annual convention of the W. F. M. S. convened at Manly M. E. church at 9:30 Tuesday, Mrs. W. N. MacDonald, district president, presiding.

The morning was taken up mostly with the business of the society. Mrs. E. H. Blazer gave a most cordial address of welcome. Mrs. O. H. Schneekart of Ironton responded. The program for the morning was closed by Rev. Brady who spoke encouraging words, expressing his hearty good wishes and offered the noon-day prayer.

A splendid luncheon was served to about one hundred and fifty ladies by the Manly ladies which was enjoyed very much by every one.

The afternoon session convened at 1:30. Mrs. James Williams conducted a devotional and memorial service which was most impressive.

Mrs. C. A. Raymond of Columbus then gave an interesting address on "Methods of Using the Text Book for the Year."

Miss Scarf and Miss Katherine Blazer gave special music. Miss

Roxanna Mellinger then gave an address on her work in Burma.

Reports of district officers were read and accepted and also reports of committees submitted. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Thompson Says Democrats Fall Back On Demagogic Appeal

CINCINNATI, O., October 18.—(By The Associated Press)—Carmel A. Thompson, Republican candidate for governor in an address here today declared that the Democratic party has fallen back upon a demagogic appeal to elements of disorder, having failed to make any impression on the public mind with any political items they hoped to make issues in this campaign. He said in part:

"Our Democratic friends first tried to raise the issue of Newberryism. This was abandoned as hopeless after Michigan voters repudiated the issue.

The attempt of Mr. Cox to raise from the dead the ghost of the League of nations issue this year was squelched by practical Democratic leaders in their plot for putting it forth as the basis of the 1924 campaign.

"Attempts to make political capital by Democratic leaders have failed because enactment of the Republican protective tariff, always a stimulus to industry and business, is creating a constantly increasing prosperity in the United States. The revival of industry and business is literally the 'blow that killed father'."

Harding

The farmer was described by the president as "captain of industry" the latter adding that elimination of competition among farmers would be impossible without sacrifice of the individualism "that still keeps the farm the real reservoir from which the nation draws so many of the finest elements of its citizenship."

The president took occasion also to deplore any movement by the farmers looking toward decrease of production and said the natural result of such a movement would be famine prices. He commended Mr. Wallace for the administration of the department of agriculture and said that the department in the last two years has rendered a particularly notable service along a somewhat new line.

"There was a time," the latter continued, "when the department of agriculture was looked upon as an instrumentality for inducing constantly larger and larger production from the farmers, rather regardless of the questions of markets and marketing of transportation, of financing and other things of that sort. Latterly we have come upon a time when these other questions demand attention, and I think the country owes a great deal to the fact that we have had a new direction given to important activities of the department. I mean that these broader questions have been given a consideration and attention which formerly was not always recognized as due to them."

"The other day a farmer said to me that the farmers could themselves relieve (the agricultural) very promptly if they would just unite on a program of reduced production. I replied that the farmers would never unite on such a program because of the peculiar economic circumstances of their industry. Every farm is an economic entity by itself. Every farmer is a captain of industry. The elimination of competition among them would be impossible without sacrificing that fine individualism that still keeps the farm the real reservoir from which the nation draws so many of the finest elements of its citizenship."

"Moreover, it would be a calamity if the farmers should unite in such a diminution of production as would force famine prices or something approximate to them. The world can get along without a good many other things but it cannot get along without the products of the farm."

"It is rather a striking fact that among the world's industries, that of agriculture has been most rapidly rehabilitated since the war. The crop statistics of the world for the past two seasons are proof of this. We may attribute it to that very individualism and self sufficiency of the farmer, to which I have referred. 'Agricultural production is very nearly restored, taking the world as a whole, but agricultural prices are so low that it is apparent to all of us that the farmer is not being adequately compensated. The Washington administration has recognized this condition and has done everything in its power to restore a normal balance between prices and costs of production. A great deal has been accomplished, and I am glad to say that the trend is strongly toward better conditions for the farmer. He has been the leader in the difficult task of bringing the whole industrial world back to normal conditions and that contribution is everywhere recognized."

"Our own country," as evidenced by every index of business and commercial conditions, is on the way now to a new era of activity and prosperity. In that new era we can be very sure that the farmer will be among the first to get the substantial recognition which he needs and must have for what he has done to make these improved circumstances possible."

Legion

Demand for a roll call in the American Legion convention today so "the world may know where we stand on the bonus question" was followed by a viva voce affirmation of the report of a resolutions committee which declared the legion will "continue to fight for the legislation until it is enacted into law. The report of the committee read by John Thomas Taylor, its chairman, declared "exposure of war profiteers" another duty of the legion. He said the convention has given consideration to the arguments urged against adjusted compensation and that the committee believed the "argument that the nation cannot afford it is unsound."

"The cost would not exceed one month more of the war" the report declared "and the nation could and would have afforded that."

The net debt of the United States is billions below that of our principal allies, though our economic strength is many fold greater and our allies have granted adjusted compensation to their war veterans.

"The argument that the adjusted compensation measure would fail by cause it does not carry taxation provisions is more insincere. None of the great war acts calling for expenditure over continued taxation features to raise revenue, revenue raising measure being independent measures."

"The argument that the cost would be five billions is misleading. That figure is arrived at by opponents of adjusted compensation by compounding at 4 1/2 percent interest for 20 years the real cost, if met now, of one and one-half billion."

Oats Differ

Like apples—be careful

Some oats are large and luscious. But a bushel of choice oats yields only ten pounds of such grains.

Those grains alone are used in Mother's Oats. That's the reason for the delightful flavor.

Some oats are small and stunted. They yield insipid flakes. Those oats are all discarded in this brand.

No food you serve to children can compare with oats. There are 16 needed elements in oats—body-builders, vim-producers, minerals, etc. Every pound yields 1810 calories of nutriment.

Oat flakes, above all foods, should be served at their best. You want children to love this dish.

Then be careful. Ask for Mother's Oats, and make sure you get them.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor of The Portsmouth Times.

Sir: Permit me to state through your paper my exceptions to the opinion of Judge A. Z. Blair, on his view of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Ohio, as printed in The Times, Tuesday.

His reference to the "doctrine of nullification" as used in the civil war, does not apply. Judge Blair is presuming when he states that those who favor the proposed amendment are all bad, and those who oppose are all good.

I would like to ask who made A. Z. Blair a judge over Israel? I claim descent to the house of David; therefore I have a right to present the truth in this matter as I see it. I am for the amendment, and I do not nullify the constitution of the United States, but I do want to nullify the Volstead law, which does presume to interpret the eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution.

Respectfully,

HARRY W. MATHIOIT.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Eleventh Street school, Thursday at 3:30 p. m. All are invited to be present.

Report of the president, Mrs. Stoddard, who was delegate to the annual convention of the Parent-Teacher Association which met in Columbus, Ohio, October 11, 12 and 13. Instrumental solo—Miss V. Grant. Address—Professor E. W. B. Carr, Springfield, Ohio.

The case of Roy "Smoke" Davis, New Boston young man, accused by Mrs. Sarah Vankirk, 1109 Twelfth street, of assaulting and robbing her of her pocketbook containing $65 on the night of Oct. 5 last, was given another whirl in Municipal court, Wednesday, and continued again by Judge McCall to give the prosecution an opportunity to present additional evidence.

The defendant strenuously denied the charge but admitted that he and "Red" Davis took the complainant to her home on Twelfth street on the night of the alleged assault. He claimed that at the time he encountered Mrs. Vankirk at a street fair in New Boston she was under the influence of liquor and that he and his companion took her home at her request.

Will Return To This City

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Nichols, who left Portsmouth nine years ago and located in Sardinia, have purchased Floyd Schaefer's property on Eleventh street and will move back to this city. The deal was closed by the Brierley Realty company.

Inspect Shops

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 18.—President Willard of the P. & O. with a party of eighteen members inspected the local shops and yards, Tuesday.

The party came in early from Parkersburg and after a short visit here left for Columbus.

President Willard and his party were much pleased with the conditions found here.

Boy, Shot By Brother When Hunting, Dies

Evel Stone, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stone, of Letitia, Ky., who was brought to Hempstead hospital Tuesday noon suffering from a gun shot wound sustained through the accidental discharge of a shot gun while out hunting, died shortly after eleven o'clock last night.

The lad succumbed from the shock of an operation performed earlier in the day by Drs. Hunt and Edgington in an effort to save his life.

The distressing accident which resulted in the lad's death occurred Monday when a shot gun in the hands of his older brother, Bright, was accidentally discharged while the boys were crossing a fence, the younger brother receiving the full load of shot in his left thigh, breaking the bone and tearing away the flesh.

The youth suffered greatly from the loss of blood as it was several hours before physicians reached the farm home of his parents and stopped the flow. The little victim was in a weakened condition when brought to the hospital and this proved fatal as his frail constitution was unable to stand the shock of the ordeal.

The lad is survived by his grief-stricken parents besides six brothers and sisters, who live on a farm near Letitia. The body was taken back to Letitia Wednesday morning for burial.

Deal Means New Warehouse

Through a deal closed Tuesday Carl P. Bauer bought Mrs. Jennie Kaps' tract of land near Tenth and Court streets, the dimensions being 110 by 168. Mr. Bauer will have a fire-proof warehouse erected on the lot at once. The deal was closed by W. W. Bauer.

ANY WAY TO GET TO COLUMBUS

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 15.—More than 16,000 students of the University of Michigan alumni, and supporters from all parts of the state will witness the football game Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, between Michigan and Ohio State, according to estimates by University officials.

Many Michigan students have purchased second hand automobiles in which to make the trip. Thousands of others will go by train while a number started from here early this week determined to walk to Columbus, nearly 200 miles away. Others were leaving today expecting to obtain rides aboard passing automobiles or trucks. Some of these expressed the hope they might travel aboard freight trains.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE
In pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the Portsmouth City School District, Scioto County, Ohio, the undersigned will offer for sale at public auction on the 27th day of October, 1922, at the premises located on S. Waller street, immediately north of the High School, the two-story frame dwelling house thereon. The house is to be moved from the premises if same can be done without injury to the trees in front of the premises. Otherwise, the house is to be torn down or wrecked and removed from the premises without injury to trees and surrounding buildings. Sale will be conducted on both plans—Cash—Cash—and house to be removed within 30 days from date of sale.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the Board of Education, William C. Hargraves, Clerk, Sept. 27-4 West.

"Not Guilty", Plea Entered By Edwards In Huntington Case

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 18.—C. Fred Edwards, wealthy manufacturer, pleaded not guilty in common Pleas Court, this afternoon, in the charge of violating the corrupt practices act in his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination at the August primary election.

Edwards, the first candidate in West Virginia ever indicted for excessive campaign expenditures, admitted in his statement of response filed with the secretary of state, that he spent about $96,000 in seeking the nomination. The state law permitted total expenditure of less than $50,000.

Subpoenas were issued late today for a number of leading Republican politicians including Virgil Highland of Clarksburg, National committee man.

Counsel for the defense indicated that Edwards would seek to show that his disbursements were not directed by himself and that large sums were spent ineffectively.

Divide World Series Spoils

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Checks ranging in sums from $50 to $4,545.71 were mailed today from the office of Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, to 74 men who participated in the 1922 world's series games at the Polo Grounds.

Checks for $2,842.86 each were given to players Joe Bush, Waite Hoyt and Fred Hoffman of the Yankees, while they were leaving Chicago last Sunday enroute to Japan.

Eighteen Giants, including Manager John McGraw and Coach Hugh Jennings, each received a check for $4,545.71.

Five members of the Giants were given individual checks for $4,545.70, which is one cent less than the amounts received by the highest group. One of these was "Casey" Dolan, the veteran assistant coach.

The veteran pitcher Jesse Barnes received one cent more than his brother, Virgil, who also is a pitcher. The checks of 12 others, including players, who were lately added to the Giant roster, ground keepers, trainers, mascots, etc., ranged from $200 to $2,272.85.

Of the 29 checks mailed today to members of the Yankee club, 23 were for $2,842.86 each, and two for $2,842.85 each of the latter being one cent less than the amounts received by the highest group. The remaining seven checks represented sums ranging from $50 to $1,421.43. The total amount of checks mailed today was $177,289.37 of which $111,289.37 went to the members of the Giants, and $66,042.33 to the Yankees.

Checks to the umpires who officiated in the baseball classic and to the players whose clubs finished second and third in the two major leagues will be mailed later.

will be out on both nights. Tickets for the show were placed on sale this morning at the Kay-Graham music store on Gallia street, and those who desire choice seats are urged to make their reservations early.

Bigelow Revival Growing In Interest; Dr. Birney Delivering Powerful Sermons

The meetings at Bigelow are growing rapidly in spiritual power. "He can preach all around Billy Sunday," said a prominent layman last night.

Dr. George Hugh Birney, Evangelist at Bigelow Methodist Church, gave his first address on "The Holy Spirit" yesterday afternoon at 2:30. This will be followed by other addresses on the same subject each afternoon. "The church will never come into its power," declared Dr. Birney, "until they Holy Spirit is given His rightful place in its faith and message. He is in the world today spiritually, even as Jesus was in the world in the days of His flesh. He is here to convict the world of sin, and to inspire Christians to their task. In Him we may know the Godhead bodily." The subject this afternoon was, "The Holy Spirit—And The Empowered Church."

Dr. Birney addressed an interested audience last night on, "Over The Top—No Man's Land." He took Jesus' command to "Go" as the basis of his challenging sermon. He described visiting the battlefields of France, and called No Man's Land, "The International Cemetery of the World for a Thousand Years."

"It is the zero hour," said the Evangelist, "and the church is commanded to go forward. If the modern church had a fraction of the same loyalty and devotion to God, that the citizenship of the Nation revealed toward America during the war, these would be days of evangelistic victory such as the world has never known."

Speaking of the place the artillery barrage played in actual battle, Dr. Birney said: "It would be futile to go forward without the barrage of almighty God. Prayer is the barrage by which the artillery of Heaven is signaled, and the power of the Holy Spirit is directed in a barrage of conviction upon the unsaved." He told of how strong men had been brought under conviction and repentance as the result of the necessary prayer of the church.

"If you want this community shaken for God? Do you desire to see many turning from their sins and surrendering to Jesus Christ? Then pray! Pray the prayer of faith, and the Holy Spirit will bring the power of God upon Portsmouth!"

The theme tonight at 7:30 will be: "The Family Name of God." It is family night and families are requested to attend, from the youngest to the oldest. Dr. Birney will present a token to the "youngest member of the largest family" present.

COLUMBUS.—C. Homer Durand, defeated beer and light wine Republican gubernatorial candidate at the August primaries, will debate the prohibition issue with Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the anti-Saloon League in Cincinnati, November 4. It was announced here.

These Six Men Are Guaranteeing The Special At Andersons' Department Managers' Sale

"The Sale With A Personality"

This is different from the ordinary run of sales in that each Department Manager comes out publicly in the advertising and states that such and such specials are his. This means that only worth while items are being placed on sale, for no Department Manager would care to have his name signed to a list of specials if they were not real bargains.

For instance, Mr. W. W. Anderson lets it be known that he and he alone has made the special prices in women's and children's apparel and he knows that the values must be real else patrons will hold him personally responsible.

Mr. Davidson has made all the special prices in shoes and men's furnishings; Mr. Moll has named the special items in floor coverings and draperies; Mr. Press has had complete and final say regarding items and special prices in house furnishings. Mr. R. W. Anderson has named all the sale items in dress goods, silks, cotton wash goods, and kindred lines; while Mr. Hood assumes full responsibility for the "Sugar Plum" plan and all the bargains to be found in the center and north aisles of the main floor.

Miss Dolly Wise

See in here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—There are some questions that have been the subject of hot debate in our little crowd for the past week which I would be very much obliged if you would answer to the best of your ability. Has it ever been decided among experts on such subjects, if there are separate and opposite characteristics in the blondes and brunettes? Is the brunette supposed to be of a plauding, slugging disposition, and a blonde nervous and quick at conclusions? Is the brunette a staid worker and player in all things than the blonde? Does the blonde think faster than the brunette? Which is the freer? That is, is the freewheeling wife or husband? Is the blonde as a rule more independent than the brunette? Is the blonde more changeable? Or do you believe there have separate characteristics? Are there more beautiful blondes than brunettes in the world, that is, celebrated women? One point is, that all angels are blondes. Is this so, just because of the golden hair used by painters? The Madonna is supposed to be a Jewish woman. Is she? Is she not a brunette? I am a blonde, a quick thinker and rather quick moving. I am also changeable, prone to one thing quickly. I am with a fellow that is a decided brunette and of opposite characteristics. Is it true to type that we go together, that persons of opposite character couple up better? I would like to get your opinion on these questions as soon as possible to compare them with mine.

THANK YOU.

I don't think there has ever been or ever will be a fair test made of the characteristics of blondes and brunettes. Since both types are represented in all classes and in many different nationalities it would be unfair to make a comparison of a few, and judge the rest of us by their characteristics. As for beauty, that is a matter of taste. Some people admire blondes and others brunettes. Personally I think there are more good looking brunettes in the world than there are blondes. Of course, it is quite natural for dark haired people to admire blondes and vice versa, but this is not always the case. The color of the hair hasn't anything to do with people thinking quickly or sloppily. I am a brunette and I can assure you that I am no sluggard or plodder.

Dear Dolly—I am a married woman of 19. I have been married for five years and have one small son. Dolly, I don't love my husband, nor any other man. I can't bear to have him come near me. Dolly, when I married him, I did not love him. I went with him to get married and he knew it. Did we do right by getting married? Dolly, if I left him could I take any boy. He is all that I have and all that has kept us together this long.

BROKEN-HEARTED WIFE.

Certainly you did wrong by marrying him when you knew you did not love him, but you are not to blame so much as your parents. You should have been playing with dolls at 14 instead of getting married. I think there should be a punishment of some kind meted out to parents who permit their young children to go with boys or marry old men. I never knew of a marriage of this kind to turn out happily. Sometimes they stick together, but they go through life without any love or respect for each other. Even at 14, you knew what you were doing, and you could have refused to go with this man or marry him if you had wanted to. I am not going to tell you to separate, as there are enough couples doing that, without any advice from me. Since your husband is good to you, and does not abuse you in any way, I believe you could manage to get along with him if you tried. You have made up your mind that you are going to hate him and you think it impossible to do otherwise. Why not try to love him a bit, or at least be nice and pleasant to him, and treat him the way you would like to have him treat you, and you will get along all right, and be just as happy as the average couple. For the sake of your little son, try and keep your family together. He is ever so humble there is no place like home. You will realize this if you leave your husband and try to live in another person's home.

Dear Dolly—This being my first time to write to you, I wish you would be so kind as to publish this letter. While in a downtown public establishment one night last week, I saw a girl, and Dolly she certainly did appeal to me. She was not one of these flirty girls, but what I would like to be a real nice girl. Now Dolly, I believe if this girl should see this letter she would know who wrote it. She wore a brown coat. This means a lot to me, and if you will publish it, I will be your life long friend.

A REGULAR CUSTOMER.

Since she is not the flirty kind, what do you expect to gain by having this letter printed? Perhaps, she is some man's wife or sweetheart, and you just want to start something. However, if she is the kind of a girl I think she is, and the kind that you think she is, this letter won't have any more effect on her than a rabbit.

Dear Miss Wise—I am fifteen years of age and in the third year of high school. I am five feet and one inch tall and weigh ninety-six pounds. Is that just about what I ought to weigh? I have been going with a fellow twenty years old for about four months. Do you think that is all right? I do not let it interfere with

SOCIETY

Mrs. Mavis Bridges and Mrs. O. M. Shurway were joint hostesses to the members of the Clover Club last evening at the home of Mrs. Bridges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davidson, 1417 Fourth street. About twenty-five members were present and following a short business session two very interesting and instructive papers were read by Mrs. Edgar Appel, who gave a short resume on "What Women Are Doing" and Miss Vere Crawford, who talked on "The Progress of Other Cities."

Plans were made to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the club at the next meeting, on October 31st, with a banquet at the "Mary Louise" tea room on Galia street.

Before the meeting adjourned, the hostesses served a delicious refreshment course.

Guests for the evening included Miss Ruth Franklin of the High School faculty, and Mrs. R. C. Ricker, of Bradenton, Florida, who is the guest of her sisters-in-law, the Misses Mae and Elizabeth Ricker of Fifth street.

Mrs. William E. Needler (Mary White), a bride of recent date, was honored with a delicious picnic dinner last evening by Mrs. John Lowry and the members of her Sunday School class of the Second Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Needler was a popular member. The dinner was served at one long table attractively arranged in the church dining room. Yellow and white was the color scheme used in the appointments, large bowls of yellow dahlias adding an effective touch of color to the tables, while yellow shaded candles formed a pretty lighting effect. Places were laid for Mrs. William Needler, the guest of honor, Mrs. John Lowry, the teacher, the Misses Jane Fairbanks, Clara and Dorothy Cropper, Winifred Farley, Stella Veatch, Christabel Thirkettle, Margaret Barber, Doris Pyles, Evelyn Goetz and Jeanette Reinger.

Following the dinner the charming young bride was tendered a kitchen shower, receiving a number of useful gifts for her new home.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing a spirited game of basketball.

Miss Catherine Cassidy has resumed her duties as stenographer in the law offices of Miller, Searl and McCurdy, after a few days' illness.

Friends of Miss Mary Griffin will be glad to learn that she continues to improve from the operation which she recently underwent in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

Miss Mary Darlington of Lucasville has concluded a visit to friends in Tronton, Ashland and Huntington.

Group No. 9, Trinity Ladies' Aid, will meet Friday afternoon, October 20, at the home of Mrs. Belle Smith, 1212 Chillicothe street. All members are urged to be present as the winter's work will be planned. Mrs. Hele will be assistant hostess and Mrs. Junch will have charge of the devotions.

Miss Emma Schneider of Ninth street was a charming hostess last evening when she entertained the members of the C. S. Club at her home on Ninth street. Cards, music and needlework were the diversions of the evening and later a delicious salad course was served to the following members:

Mrs. Norman Duwel, Mrs. Loren Cunningham, Mrs. Clarence Fisher, Mrs. Howard Hanson, Mrs. John Hetzel, Mrs. Earl Heury, the Misses Mabel Wiget, Alfrida Scott, Jennie Dadds and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rice, 1702 Fifth street, have returned from a short motor trip to Columbus. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Rice's aunt, Mrs. John Henderson, of Columbus who will visit here for a few days.

Mr. R. Ellsworth Tells How Cuticura Healed His Scalp

"My trouble began with a sore and itchy scalp and my scalp was covered with red spots which caused restlessness and sleeplessness. Every time I washed my head it hurt terribly. My scalp was covered with dandruff. Then pimples appeared all over my face, caused itching, burning and discomfort."

"I used every thing I could get to cure me, but the trouble grew worse all the time. I was advised to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Ointment, when I was healed. (Signed) Ralph Ellsworth, 112 W. 12th St., Joplin, Mo."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes.

Remember that Cuticura Soap is made in the U. S. A. and is the only Cuticura Soap made without soap.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

An old Assyrian marriage custom is based upon sound psychology. All the girls of marriageable age are assembled in one place and auctioned off.

The money which the handsome girls bring in is bestowed upon the plain ones as a marriage portion, giving them an added matrimonial value.

In this way all girls, no matter how unprepossessing as to appearance, are provided with husbands.

Friends of Miss Emma Blake who is a patient at Schramm hospital will be glad to learn that she is improving daily.

Miss Emma Hubert of the Bureau of Community Service spent yesterday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. Fred Kemmerer was a gracious hostess last evening when she entertained the members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Franklin Avenue M. E. church at her attractive home, 724 Third street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with large bouquets of dahlias, roses and carnations, and an unusually interesting business session was held the forepart of the evening. During the social hour which followed a very enjoyable program was presented. Miss Helen Rau read from the text book on "India."

Miss Bertha Griver, Mrs. Charles E. Severinghaus and Mrs. Fred Kemmerer rendered a delightful trio, and a Missionary playlet was given by Mrs. Elmer Stacy, Miss Katie Gabler and Miss Mae Zinnicker.

Before the meeting adjourned Mrs. Kemmerer and her assistant hostesses, Mrs. George Youngman and Misses Mae and Rebecca Zinnicker, served a delicious salad course to the forty members present.

Mrs. L. A. Resslering of Cleveland was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. Theodore O. Shump, Sciotoville, will be hostess to members of the Home League Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Freeman Chase as assistant hostess. The following is the program:

Scripture Reading—Mrs. Albert Pressler.

Roll Call—American Birds.

Reading—Marvelous Places Where Birds Live.

Music—Mrs. E. H. Bailey.

Paper—"Indian Summer"—Mrs. John Rottinghaus.

Reading—"The Forest Hymn"—Mrs. Fred Baker.

This will be one of the most interesting meetings of the season and all members are expected to be present.

Lee Ruessell, Bunny Harper, both of Columbus, spent the weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. George Ruessell and sister, Mrs. I. H. Stewart, of 1400 Sixth street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ricker, Bradenton, Florida, are visiting the former's mother Mrs. J. W. Ricker and sisters, Misses Mae and Elizabeth Ricker, Fifth street.

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE CARELESS

Women are too apt to overestimate their strength and overtax it. When feeling well they take unnecessary chances, which in the long run cause much pain and trouble. Wet feet, exposure to cold, lifting heavy burdens and overwork will often develop troubles which cause no end of suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing remedy in such cases. Thousands of American women will testify to this fact who have regained health and strength by its use. If you are suffering it will pay you to give it a fair trial.—Advertisement.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NANCY and Nick were riding along in the magic automobile as nice as pie.

"They never suspected that Light Fingers, the bad little fairy, was flying right over their heads. And they never knew a thing about the magic pill that Light Fingers had in a bottle."

"This magic pill made everything it touched go backward, and at this very minute Light Fingers was trying to drop it into the gasoline tank."

At last the bad little fairy got the cap of the tank unscrewed. And in another second he had dropped in the magic pill.

The first thing Nancy and Nick knew, the little car stopped with a sudden jerk and they fell right off the seat onto the floor.

And the next thing they knew they were going backward at about a dozen miles a minute.

"Oh, my!" cried Nancy. "What's happened?"

"I don't know," answered Nick. "but we'll have to think of a charm as fast as we can. I've got one."

So he said.

"Magic auto, what's the matter? You act as crazy as a hatter."

"I don't know what's wrong with me," answered a voice. "But something's queer inside me. Try another charm."

"So Nick made up this one."

"Magic auto, don't go back. You'll bump our heads, like Jill and Jack."

But that charm didn't work either. The magic automobile kept on whizzing backward right toward the cave of Twelve Foes, the Sorcerer.

Light Fingers was pleased to pieces.

PEANUT BUTTER BREAD

By Bertha E. Shapleigh
Of Columbia University

3 cups flour
1/2 cup peanut butter.
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar

5 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 cups milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup finely chopped peanuts

SIFT flour once before measuring; then sift twice with the salt, sugar and baking powder.

Lightly work peanut butter into the flour just as one would any butter. Beat eggs until light and add to the flour with the milk.

Thoroughly mix to a soft dough, add peanuts, and turn the mixture into a well-greased bread pan. Let stand for half an hour, then bake in a moderate oven one hour.

This is a very good tasting and nourishing bread and is especially good for the children's lunch box.

It makes excellent sandwiches, spread with jelly or marmalade.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

BY ELTON

After his two captors had shown him the huge tower, Jack was dragged inside. "Notice the strong doors this place has," said one of the men. "It is practically impossible for a person to escape from a place like this."

Then Jack was led upstairs to the multimillionaire's room. "It looks like you are in for it," said one of the men to Jack. "Old Man Ogre has no use for people who come snooping around on his property."

At last Jack was ushered in to face the old land owner. Then his captors explained that the boy had been trespassing. "Take him up to the tower and give him nothing but bread and water," shouted Old Man Ogre. Continued.

SOCIETY

The many friends of Miss Mary Wall and Mr. Marling Mitchell will be surprised to learn that they drove to Ironton Tuesday evening and were quietly married in the parsonage of the First Christian Church of that city, the impressive ring service being read at eight o'clock by the pastor, Reverend R. C. Birge.

Miss Wall is the eldest of the two charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Wall of Grandview avenue and is a decided brunette. She looked unusually sweet and attractive in her wedding attire, a handsome suit of brown velveteen, with harmonizing accessories, completed by a corsage of bride's roses.

Mr. Mitchell holds a responsible position with the C. & O. Railway, and is well worthy of the bride of his choice.

They were accompanied by the bride's parents and sister, Miss Margaret Wall, and Mrs. Mattie Scott of this city, and were met in Ironton by Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, her son and two daughters, Mr. Charles Hopkins and the Misses Margaret and Ruth Hopkins, life-long friends of the bride, who witnessed the ceremony.

After congratulations and best wishes had been extended, the happy couple, they were driven to Ashland, where they took a C. & O. train East for a visit in Washington, D. C., and other points of interest. They expect to go to housekeeping immediately upon their return to Portsmouth.

The young ladies of the D. T. O. Club and a few friends enjoyed a theatre party at the Columbia Tuesday evening, after which they were served with a luncheon at the Classic.

Those participating were the Misses Ruth Stenshorn, Norma McNeal, Martha Burkhardt, Agnes Yates, Mrs. Annette Scott, Edna Wallace, Garnet Day, Charlotte Crabtree, Marguerite Clarke, Garnet Clarke, Garnet Schuler, Agnes Taylor, Marie Young, Janet Reilly, Georgia Roberts, Avis Smith, Helen Licht and Mrs. William Pixley of Cleveland, Ohio.

Liberty Class of Manly church enjoyed a delightful meeting recently at the home of Mrs. K. G. Payne on Scioto Trail. Members and their families met at the church and made the trip in machines furnished by the members of the class. After reaching the home of Mrs. Payne, the members held a business session and the men built a huge bon-fire. The ladies and children joined them later, and they all enjoyed a delightful time roasting wieners and marshmallows. Later hot coffee was served. After the "buns" had been disposed of the party, numbering forty, returned to the Payne home, where they listened to a "forceful sermon" delivered by Henry Renner, a song by Mrs. Charles Dush and a reading by Miss Thelma Hogan. At a late hour the guests departed for their homes after having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Gun Victims In Serious Condition

"Harding Administration Real Issue In Campaign"—Thompson

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Reputation or commendation of the administration of President Harding is the "one fundamental issue in this campaign," Postmaster General William Thompson declared in an address here last night at a Republican meeting. "Ohio voters must say this year whether they believe President Harding has salvaged from the wreck in which the rule of the minority party perished, sufficient material upon which to found new hope, industrial prosperity, national solvency and a better America," he said.

"Let the voters of Ohio ask themselves which party wrecked the nation's institutions and which party has been and is rebuilding them," he continued. "America today is on the eve of a prosperity greater than heretofore dreamed of; agriculture, industry and finance are on a beautiful basis."

"I issue solemn warning against the caution word-juggling reactionary and vicious doctrine, who would convince us that this country is on the verge of disaster. They are but the vicious vapors of muddled minds."

OAK HILL PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

OAK HILL, Oct. 18.—A deal was consummated here this week, in which the two story frame building on Main street owned by M. J. Tope became the property of Joe Pastor. The first floor is occupied by H. M. Bates' grocery and meat market and the upstairs rooms by Mr. and Mrs. George Seel and Mrs. Alice Foster. Mr. Seel also has his watch and clock repair shop in one of the rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Pastor expect to occupy the second floor as soon as it is vacated.

HOUSING FOR ROD MILL EMPLOYEES

Building contractors are preparing estimates and some have submitted bids on the construction of suitable homes for employees soon to be engaged in operating this new and most appreciated addition to Portsmouth industries. We need industries, we need the men to operate them, we need to provide suitable homes in which to make comfortable their families and associates. Therefore, we shall need assistance financially to accomplish the present housing need. This need we shall secure on an investment basis and right now we are prepared to show an income on any subscription to a building corporation. Figures will soon be available.

ADAM FRICK, President,
Chairman of Committee.

Students Motor Here To See Grid Star

The Ironation says: Quite a number of High School students motored to Portsmouth yesterday morning to visit William Kibbe and his star guard of the high school Blue of the football city.

Fox Chase At Washington C. H., Nov. 13

The National Fox Hunters' Association will hold its annual fox chase near Washington C. H., on November 13 and a number of local sportsmen have been invited to attend. This will be an all-day race and promises to be largely attended and full of interest.

The average depth of the sea is about two and one-half miles.

To Leave Hilltop

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carroll will move shortly from Kibbe's Lane to their property on Second street near Court. They recently sold their home on Kibbe's Lane.

Takes Job Here
Miss Edith Hughes of Oak Hill has taken a position in this city.

Another Slash In Ford Prices

Another drop of $50 in the price of Ford machines was announced by local dealers, The Universal Motor Company and S. A. Stewart, Tuesday, on receipt of telegrams from Detroit that a $50 reduction was in effect. At the same time announcement was made of the new Ford sedan of four-door type with aluminum body slightly longer than the present model. The price of this new model will be $725.

The new prices announced Tuesday are the lowest in Ford history and set a new bottom price for Ford rivals to shoot at. One new car recently made its appearance at the former Ford prices.

Under the new prices the various Ford models will sell at the following figures, f. o. b. Detroit: Chassis, $225; runabout, $260; touring, $295; truck, $380; couplet, $530; sedan, two-door type, $565.

The price of starter remains at $70 and demountable wheels at $25.

To Meet In Washington
The Eighteenth National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will be held in Washington on the 6th and 7th of December, is brought to the attention of the local office of the Chamber of Commerce through a letter from the secretary of the association in which it is stated that the officers of the congress earnestly desire to make this convention larger and more interesting to those attending, and of greater benefit to the cause of waterways than any of the seven already held, and in which every member of the association is urged to make every effort to be present. The advice suggestions and co-operation of the members are also sought that the success of the convention may be insured.

The local Chamber of Commerce will be represented at the convention.

West Virginia News Briefs

(By the United Press)
CHARLESTON—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company is to resume the sleeping car service that was suspended because of the strike. The Rinefield-Charleston sleeper has been restored and the Clarksburg and Pittsburgh sleepers will be resumed on Monday, October 23.

CHARLESTON—The famous old Ruby home on Kanawha street, between Morris and Bradford streets, erected three-quarters of a century ago, by John C. Ruby, pioneer Kanawha valley salt manufacturer, and considered one of the finest examples of colonial architecture in the state, has been purchased by John Crowley, for $30,000. For many years the home was considered the finest between Richmond and Cincinnati.

HUNTINGTON—B. W. Preston, a merchant of Spriggs, has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in United States district court, listing his assets at $13,227 and liabilities, $13,530.

BLUEFIELD—The newly organized Princeton Hosiery Company, has arranged a merger with William A. and Charles A. Hietrick, textile manufacturers of South Carolina, who will move machinery here and will take over active management of the company.

Guilty Of Grand Larceny

HUNTINGTON, Oct. 18—J. T. Edwards, Chesapeake and Ohio railway conductor, 1005 Eighth avenue was convicted of grand larceny in the theft of a $1,000 Buick automobile from W. N. Branch, a neighbor and fellow railroader, in common pleas court yesterday afternoon.

Judge D. E. Matthews suspended the imposition of sentence to allow Edward's attorneys time to prepare for further litigation if they deem it wise.

Two years confinement in the state penitentiary is the minimum sentence that can be imposed under the law, and it is considered likely that Judge Matthews will fix this penalty following recommendation of the jury "that the court extend leniency."

CASES DISMISSED IN U. S. COURT

The cases of L. P. Reed of Ironton, John Hubert, boilermaker, of South Portsmouth, and W. Saunders, clerk, South Portsmouth, all employed by the C. and O., were dismissed by Judge Cochran in U. S. court yesterday on motion of U. S. District Attorney Smith.

The men were all charged with violation of the restraining order granted the railway in the recent strike.

To Conduct Exam

The United States Civil Service Commission announces a general clerical examination on November 4, 1922 at Portsmouth, to fill vacancies in the Departmental Service, Washington, D. C., at $800 to $1,000 a year, or higher or lower outrange salaries, unless it is found in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by re-instatement, transfer or promotion.

Bonus—Appointees whose services are satisfactory may be allowed the increase granted by Congress of $20 a month.

Citizenship and Sex—All citizens of the United States who meet the requirements, both men and women, may enter this examination; appointing officers, however, have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles.

What's Wrong In U. S.?

New York, Wise Says
By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 18—The answer of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise to "What Is Wrong With America?" is this:
"New York."
The rabbi said so in a sermon yesterday.
Other faults he finds with the United States:
It is addicted to a passion for substitutes.
It is intolerant.
It is democratic only in theory and obsessed by mob thinking which "corrodes and kills originality."
It is burdened by a penchant for trivialities and a lack of high seriousness.

SOCIETY

The seventy-third birthday anniversary of Mr. John Stoll was celebrated recently when his sons and daughters, their families and a few friends surprised him by assembling at his home near Beaver with well-filled baskets and enjoyed an all day gathering.

A sumptuous dinner was spread at the noon hour and covers were laid for Mr. George R. Stoll and daughters, Adeline and Catherine, and son John; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stoll and daughters, Anna, Hazel, Margaret, Ruth and Gurnel and son George; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stoll and daughters, Mary Elizabeth, Sara Margaret, and sons John, William and Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. White and daughters Sara and Mildred, and sons Stanley and Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht and daughter Mary Louise and sons John, Homer, Glen, Virgil and Harold of Portsmouth; H. J. Stoll and daughters Jennie and Marie and son William Allard; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ingall and daughter Mary and son Charles; Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine and daughters Mildred and Ethel and sons Clifford, David and Alfred of Beaver, and John Hust of Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lakeman, 1023 Third street, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Windel, Offshore street; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheidt, 1024 Third street; Misses Anna and Mollie Lloyd, 402 Sinton street, were guests of William Stockham and daughter, Miss Ruth Stockham, at McGaw, Sunday.

Failed To Arrive
Members of River City Camp, Woodmen of the World, turned out in large numbers last night at the weekly meeting to greet State Manager Louis Stoffel of the northern part of the state, but they were disappointed for he failed to arrive for the meeting.

Two candidates, C. W. Eligor and W. Ratcliff were initiated and several applicants were received. Members discussed plans for the Stoffel class initiation which will be held at New Boston the latter part of this month. Announcement was also made that plans are being made for a big meeting that will be held by the Tri-State Committee in Ashland December 15.

Much Waste Paper Being Converted Into New Stock

CHICAGO, October 18.—(By the Associated Press)—More than 38,000 acres of timber in the United States have been preserved this year for the future by the use of waste paper in the manufacture of new, Grellet Collins, president of the Book Paper Manufacturers' Association, told the members at their meeting here today. "The shortage of waste paper in the United States today is more than a business problem of the paper industry," he said. "It is a conservation problem involving the forests of the entire country."

"Every ton of waste paper that is used by the paper mills means just so much of our forest resources saved for the future. Taking good pulp wood land as an example, it can be said that the use of six tons of waste paper is equal to saving of one acre of timber from devastation. This is no small matter when it is considered that the paper industry will use in 1922 nearly two million tons of waste paper."

"Today waste paper is so scarce that it costs the paper manufacturer in some regions more than new wood pulp. Paper has been so cheap that no junk dealer would buy it. The shortage followed and now it is too high."

LEAGUE ACCOMPLISHMENTS CITED

Ninth Article--The Peace Treaty In The View Of Today

By James M. Cox, Ex-Governor of Ohio

The makers of the Treaty of Versailles did not regard it as a perfect instrument. It was impossible to do some of the things at the time which in the interest of a permanent peace were deemed essential. The average critic of the treaty is so blinded by partisanship that he gives no thought to the many difficulties that surrounded the conference.

Certainly no one believed it possible that America would abandon the labors of readjustment. The moral responsibility was quite as binding as it was during the war. If civilization was imperiled by a military autocracy, the destruction of the remaining institution was but the first part of the world task.

America struck the determining blow at the crucial hour in the war and afterwards abandoned not only the victors but the vanquished as well.

Half the troubles attendant upon the present European situation have come from the overhauling bitterness of the past. It was America that spoke the terms upon which arms were laid down. She not only rendered a great service to mankind when she did it, but she assumed the moral obligation to see that the task was kept.

To one who wants to reflect upon the facts, it is apparent that the peace treaty was but preliminary to a program of international justice.

The game of grab at the peace table was prevented by Woodrow Wilson. He defied the elements of greed. He insisted that the territory taken from Germany be placed under mandate until the inhabitants were enabled to determine their own future.

This prolonged the conference. The Italian delegates went home in a huff. As days came and went, socialism was spreading over southern Europe. The shadow of hunger hung over millions of homes. In time it was a race, so far as the peace-makers were concerned, with starvation and revolution.

Mr. Wilson, and those who were possessed of a like idealism made the best of a bad situation. They were unable to enforce in toto the principle of the fourteen points. I do not attempt to speak for Mr. Wilson, but I am convinced that he signed the treaty in the same spirit that animated Gen. Smuts. Doubtless the feeling with those possessed of high purpose was that the League of Nations under the favoring conditions of subsidizing passions would be enabled through mediation to make the necessary readjustments.

Four years have passed, and the truth of his (Wilson's) observations is apparent. It remains to be seen whether another four years must come and go before the possibilities of the League of Nations are realized in America.

about by this war--The enemy peoples ought at the earliest possible date join the league in collaboration with the allied peoples learn to practice the great lesson of this war--that not in separate ambitions or in selfish domination, but in common service for the great human causes lies the true path of national progress.

"Unless the victors can effectively extend a helping hand to the defeated and broken peoples, a large part of Europe is threatened with exhaustion and decay."

Selfishness Dominated Peace Delegates

It is well to recall some of the things that made trouble. It is recognized in Europe now that a mistake was made when Paris was selected for the peace conference. This was a tribute to the French soldiers and the French people, both of whom in the face of almost unendurable hardships had survived the invasion of their soil. It was the very center of war excitement.

EX-GOV. COX SAYS:

To one who wants to reflect upon the facts, it is apparent that the peace treaty was but preliminary to a program of international justice.

The game of grab at the peace table was prevented by Woodrow Wilson. He defied the elements of greed.

Doubtless the feeling with those possessed of high purpose was that the League of Nations under the favoring conditions of subsidizing passions would be enabled through mediation to make the necessary readjustments.

Four years have passed, and the truth of his (Wilson's) observations is apparent. It remains to be seen whether another four years must come and go before the possibilities of the League of Nations are realized in America.

A part of the Paris press has been badly. Conflicting national claims that were under discussion were exploited by paid advertisements. There was a ceaseless propaganda going on.

England had just held an election. The coalition forces of Lloyd George had won the day on the slogan that carried the sentiment of war bitterness. Territories given up by the vanquished countries were regarded as spoils of war, and there were many evidences of national greed.

France wanted Alsace-Lorraine and the Saar Valley, the left bank of the Rhine, Syria and part of Cameroun. England wanted Mesopotamia. Germany East Africa, Southwest Africa and some of the South Pacific Islands and possibly Palestine. Italy wanted the Trentino and Trieste, the Tyrol, Dalmatia, Fiume parts of Albania and a foothold at Adalia. Japan wanted Shantung and some northern Pacific islands.

Jugoslavia and the border states desired independence. Roumania wanted Transylvania and Bessarabia. America wanted nothing in territory.

The game of grab at the peace table was prevented by Woodrow Wilson. He defied the elements of greed. He insisted that the territory taken from Germany be placed under mandate until the inhabitants were enabled to determine their own future.

This prolonged the conference. The Italian delegates went home in a huff. As days came and went, socialism was spreading over southern Europe. The shadow of hunger hung over millions of homes. In time it was a race, so far as the peace-makers were concerned, with starvation and revolution.

Mr. Wilson, and those who were possessed of a like idealism made the best of a bad situation. They were unable to enforce in toto the principle of the fourteen points.

I do not attempt to speak for Mr. Wilson, but I am convinced that he signed the treaty in the same spirit that animated Gen. Smuts. Doubtless the feeling with those possessed of high purpose was that the League of Nations under the favoring conditions of subsidizing passions would be enabled through mediation to make the necessary readjustments.

Confirmation of this view would seem to be afforded by the original draft of Article X of the Covenant drawn by Mr. Wilson himself. It was as follows:

Covenant Shows Hope To End All Wars

"The contracting powers unite in guaranteeing to each other, political independence and territorial integrity; but it is understood between them that such territorial readjustments, if any, as may in the future become necessary by reason of changes in present racial conditions and aspirations or present social and political relationships, pursuant to the principle of self-determination, and also such territorial adjustments as may in the judgment of three-fourths of the delegates be demanded by the welfare and manifest interest of the peoples concerned may be effected, if agreeable to those people; and that territorial changes may in equity involve material compensation. The contracting powers accept without reservation the principle that the peace of the world is superior in importance to every question of political jurisdiction or boundary."

There is a considerable feeling that it would have been better if Mr. Wilson's first draft had been adopted. It not only laid down the fixed principle of national rights, but it explicitly promised relief if developed that certain frontier arrangements were found undesirable.

Advocates of the league, certainly, must have regarded the door as open for the problems lying in the future. Otherwise it is doubtful whether Gen. Smuts, for instance, would have signed the treaty.

Four years have elapsed and the truth of his observations is apparent. It remains to be seen whether another four years must come and go before the possibilities of the League of Nations are realized in America.

Article X, War Boyce May Be Changed

Article X, which aroused so much controversy in America, did not receive as much notice in Europe. In fact, students of the covenant have been surprised that it occasioned such a marked reaction. Doubtless, Lord Robert Cecil had in mind American objections to Article X when he recently proposed an amendment to the constitution which provides that if force is invoked in restraint of an aggressive act, only continental soldiers shall be used.

The general belief, although it is not urged against Lord Cecil's suggestion, is that the league in all probability will never have to go beyond the measure of an economic boycott. In support of this is cited the Albanian episode.

The Albanians are a little people who have from time immemorial lived on the southern coast of the Adriatic sea. Until the Balkan wars of 1912-13, they were subject to the Turkish Empire. Many of them became Mohammedans, because under Turkish law no Christian could own land or carry arms.

In 1913, when Turkey was finally driven out of the Balkans, the great powers created Albania into an autonomous principality. A German prince was sent to govern the country. Before the work of consolidation was completed, the war of 1914 began. The German prince fled and chaos was general.

Various armies fought on her soil. When peace came, there were Serbs, French, Italians and Greeks in occupation. The appeal to the peace conference for the status of a separate state would have been futile, except for Lord Robert Cecil, of England, and Mr. Rowell, of Canada. They said: "If we reject this little state, a primitive people possessed of a very strong national instinct, they will resist because invaders are trying to dismember them and wars have started from smaller causes."

It was made a sovereign state, but the little country had no established frontiers. It asked the council of the league to establish them. Economic Boycott Already Saves War

While it was engaged in this, the Serbian troops occupied what was beyond question Albanian territory. This occasioned uneasiness in Italy because of Albania's strategic position on the Adriatic Sea. The situation was serious. The British government asked for an emergency meeting of the council of the league, suggesting the use of the economic boycott. The meeting was held within a week.

In the interim, the Serbian exchange had fallen on the London market. Negotiations for a Serbian loan were dropped. The Serbian government immediately withdrew its troops.

The league directed a commission consisting of impartial persons, one from Finland, one from Norway, one from Luxembourg, to report on the withdrawal of the invaders, a specific date having been fixed. Before the time elapsed, the commission wired the council that withdrawal had taken place. A commission of experts is now establishing the frontiers.

Albania's independent existence has been recognized by all the great powers who have sent diplomatic representatives to Tirana, the capital. Albania has asked the League for expert advisers in economic, financial and other matters. A system is being perfected which establishes a method of taxation, a central bank and the creation of currency.

There are two lessons from this: First, that the economic boycott was sufficient to avert war, and second, that the small nations of the earth trust the League of Nations as an impartial organization having no financial or territorial policy, concealed in the background. (Copyright, 1922, by NEA Service, Inc.)

This is the concluding article of ex-Governor Cox's series on European observations.

nothing at hand to give relief, and after two or three days you get over it. It took that time for the stomach to right itself naturally. But why go through such misery? If you chew one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating you can have pie and cheese, doughnuts, baked beans, steak and fried onions, sausage and so on for your three meals a day and not have a sour stomach with gas, belching, fullness, pressure and the misery that comes from an acid stomach due to indigestion. The reason is that these tablets supply the stomach with an alkaline effect that neutralizes the acid, hence the stomach becomes calm and sweet. If you fear you are a chronic dyspeptic and afraid to eat get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets of any druggist and get back into your eating stride.—Advertisement.

Kates' Team Cops Pennant

Manager Clyde Kates' Hartford baseball team won the title of city champs of Dayton by defeating the Lindsens in the third and deciding struggle last Saturday by the close score of 6 to 5.

Manager Kates and "Red" Thomas who figured prominently in the victory, are former Hardin Champs. Concerning the contest the Dayton News says:

"The outstanding hero was the Hartford pitcher, 'Red' Thomas, who set 12 Linden players on the bench on strikes. Thomas led in the hitting also, bagging a homer, which was the last and winning run for Hartford. He made a two-bagger and a single also.

"Manager Kates has brought two pennants to the Hartford team having won the Junior championship of Dayton with a record of 25 victories while his baseball team has 21 victories and but three defeats which earned the high honors."

Capt. Brock May Be Out Of Game Rest Of The Season As Result Of Facial Injury

Captain Tommy Brock of the P. H. S. football eleven suffered a facial injury during practice Tuesday afternoon that may keep him out of the game the remainder of the season. An X-ray taken of the injury showed the right cheek bone to be fractured.

Brock along with the remainder of the regulars were put through stiff tackling practice. Jimmy Duduit was given the ball to carry down the field and Brock was to make the tackle. Brock tackled his man about the legs. Duduit's knee, crashing into the Captain's cheek.

Brock was attended by Dr. Gilbert Micklethwaite, who had an X-ray of the cheek bone taken at Mercy clinic. The injury did not give him much pain last night but this morning the right side of his face was swollen and painful. The cheek bone was cured in and the right side of his face was that until the physician placed the bone in position. The bone is one that will knit quickly and Brock may be able to play again this season, but he will be taking a big chance on injuring the cheek bone again.

Thomas Brock was a clever football player, this being his second and final year in the game with the Red and Blue. He was an earnest and tireless worker, ever loyal to his team in every play with heart and soul, and his absence will weaken the P. H. S. aggregation.

"He was, without doubt, the best end man developed in the local school in many years, his ability cannot be over-rated and his faithful work cannot be too highly commended," said Coach Dan Fries last night. "We surely regret that he is out of the game," he continued.

Locate Eisteddfod Tent

WELLSTON, Oct. 18.—David Howell, of Jackson, was in this city today to make a search for the big tent which is to be used for the Eisteddfod which will be held at Jackson Friday next. The tent was delayed enroute and tracer was sent out for it. It was located in the Chillicothe yards and was forwarded to Jackson today. Work of erection will begin tomorrow. Gas mains have been laid to the site and a number of stoves will be put up, which will make the tent comfortable during the exercises.

Mr. Howell reports that all the choruses that are to compete are holding daily and highly rehearsals and the public will be treated to a very high class of music. The children's chorus will open at about 11 a. m., the ladies chorus at 4 p. m., the male chorus at 10:30 p. m. and mixed chorus at 11:30 p. m.

GOOD LOOKS GOOD HEALTH

WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND—that's the answer. Some of you ladies who read this may have complexion disfigured by liver spots and discolorations. If this is the case, don't worry about it and don't use face lotions. Just go at once to Wurster Bros. and get a large bottle of WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, for only sixty cents. It will clear your complexion by helping to drive from your system the poisonous uric acid that is affecting your liver, stomach and kidneys. A poor, rough, mottled skin isn't due to the sun or weather, but to an upset condition which uric acid usually causes. Go to the root of the trouble. Destroy that and your good looks and health will return.

WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, is a wonderful preparation for indigestion, biliousness, constipation, headache, rheumatism, malaria, nervousness, kidney troubles—when caused by uric acid poison. Remember WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, is guaranteed by Wurster Bros. and dealers everywhere.

It is pleasant to take, acts quickly, and you can get your money back on the first bottle purchased if dissatisfied. —Advertisement.

"SCHOOL DAYS"

Synopsis
Freckle-faced Speck Brown, an amiable and irresponsible little orphan boy, lives his dog and fishing reel better than the school room. But his stern guardian, a Deacon, threatens to give him a sound thrashing if he doesn't obey orders and attend to his studies.

In the school room, Speck cuts up all sorts of capers, with the result that he angers his teacher and receives a whipping from his guardian. It is during this moment that the teacher, a kindly, middle-aged woman, in an endeavor to prevent the Deacon from whipping Speck, is reminded that she was hired purely to save her from the poor house, and that if she cannot exact obedience from her pupils she will be fired.

Now Speck Brown's best friends are his dog, and Left, an old crotchety inventor, who believes that some day he will be rich from his latest invention "You Can't Lose It-Clothes-Run." While rambling with his dog through a field, Speck meets an old stranger. They strike up an acquaintance, and during the conversation Speck declares that one does not need an education to get along in the world. The stranger is none other than Speck's uncle. And through his uncle Speck is launched on an educational career to be pursued among society's juvenile set in the East. Speck leaves his rural surroundings, taking along Left's clothes run invention. In the east Speck is unpopular. Meanwhile, Left is called East to explain his invention to a group of capitalists and discovers his invention is worthless. Disgusted with the artificial existence of the juvenile set, Speck goes back home on a freight train. He finds his greatest joy in meeting his dog and little sweetheart, and is convinced by his uncle that an education is one of the most valuable assets in life.

Appeal To Women

The proposed amendment to the Constitution of Ohio is causing the attention of every worth-while organization of women. It received vivid notice yesterday, Tuesday, in the convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, when Manly Methodist Episcopal church was the hostess of this aggressive body of women.

The voters of Ohio have an opportunity to uphold Constitution of the United States in the election on November 7th by voting NO on the proposed "Light Wine and Beer" amendment.

This proposed amendment is as traitorous to the welfare of the state of Ohio as anything that could be imagined.

BUT—

You CANNOT vote unless you have registered. And the only opportunities left for that are on Friday and Saturday of this week. The place is your voting booth.

If you registered in the last Presidential campaign, or since, you are safe. If you have moved in the time since you registered, all you need to do is GET A TRANSFER to your new voting precinct, and get it on Friday or Saturday of this week. These instructions were given this writer today, October 18th, by Clerk of the Board of Elections, J. F. Johnley.

P. H. S. TO SEND CRIPPLED TEAM AGAINST ASHLAND ELEVEN HERE NEXT SATURDAY

CAPT. BROCK OUT OF GAME

If P. H. S. is sure to present a crippled lineup Friday afternoon when meet the Ashland Tomcats repeating Ashland Hi on the local iron. Pullback P. H. S. is out of line, but not in the best of health. Captain Brock, who was set a trill at the fullback position, and that means W. Moore will have to get a chance to perform at position. Moore is small, but is a hard worker and is a sure tackler. He made a good showing the few minutes he was in the game last Saturday.

He was to have been worked at last but with the new shift in players "Red" Mandle who has been working out with the second team for two seasons, may get into the game at half with Ellsworth on the other half. "Dude" Moore would then play the quarterback position. Monk, who has been playing at half, will probably take the place of Captain Brock at left end with Manning on the other flank position.

3,000 Extra Seats Ready

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—Ohio Stadium ticket office announced Tuesday that 3,000 general admission tickets would go on sale at the various entrances to the Ohio Stadium at 11 a. m. Saturday morning.

These will be standing room on a raised platform in the south end of the stadium.

The office further stressed the necessity of getting to the game an hour before the program starts, since it will take the huge crowd almost that long to file to its seats.

Selects Hold Real Workout

Basketball practice was in order last night in the high school gym when Haysman's Selects held a dandy workout along with the Selects Juniors. The Selects had about ten candidates out for the team while the Juniors had about 25 boys expressing a desire to play on this line. Another practice session will be held Thursday night in the high school gym. Boys not in school are the only ones being considered for the Selects Juniors.

O. W. U. Team Vs. Bearcats

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—Cincinnati University's Bearcats will make their first start in the Conference next Saturday by playing Wesleyan at Carson Field in a game that will give a pretty good line on both teams.

Cincinnati's games with Pittsburgh, Kentucky and Georgetown, all of which resulted in decisive defeats for the Bearcats, largely were experimental battles that have given Coach McLaren a good line on his material.

Ten Conference Teams Beaten

Although the football season has barely started, ten of the 19 teams in the Ohio Conference already have met defeat at least once at the hands of another Conference team—while two of the 19—Cincinnati University and St. Xavier College—have not yet played a Conference game.

Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan and Wooster are heading the championship race each with two victories.

Neither of these three, however, has yet played a game with a team which seems likely to be a real contender for the Conference crown.

Of the three Wesleyan, perhaps, looks best and mainly because of her trick in holding Ohio State to a 3-0-0 score. Wittenberg has defeated Muskingum and Western Reserve, but was scored upon by the Reserve team, which appears to be a weak one.

Wooster's victories have been scored over Akron and Case, neither of which seems very strong.

Ohio U., Miami, Mt. Union and Oberlin each has won its only Conference game and of this quartet Ohio appears a trifle the best because the Athens school vanquished Denison last Saturday by a 7-0-0 score. Miami's feature of beating Akron, 20 to 12, is not particularly encouraging as Wooster trounced Akron, 14 to 0.

Oberlin, seems, rather strong and will meet a pretty good test as to Conference ability Nov. 4 by playing Wittenberg at Springfield.

Nov. 4 also will give a rather good line on Ohio U. as the Athens team will tackle St. Xavier at Athens that day. Mt. Union is, yet, a rather unknown quantity, having played only minor games so far.

BIG RACE AT LATONIA SATURDAY

There is a race scheduled to be run at Latonia next Saturday which promises to eclipse anything ever run there.

It is called the Latonia Championship stakes, and is for foals of 1919. In that year foals were nominated for the stake, and at the time the race, closed 323 nominations had been made.

Yet it is a safe bet that not more than a dozen will go to the post.

The race will be worth approximately $28,000 to the winner. The probable field will include the best 3-year-olds in the country.

The probable starters are: Chatterton, Yoshimi, Cherry Tree, Surf Rider, Startle and Margaret Winsor, trained in the west, and Bunting, Lucky Hour, Missionary, Southern Cross, which have been performing in the east.

This will be the fourth running of the Championship. Mad Hatter won the first one, Clementine the second and Sporting Blood the third.

The race is at a mile and six furlongs, and its past history indicates it takes an indomitable thoroughbred to negotiate the distance and win.

MY KINGDOM FOR A ROOM WILL BE BATTLE CRY IN COLUMBUS SATURDAY

More than 1,000 out-of-town persons who will attend the Ohio State-Michigan game, marking the dedication of the new Stadium Saturday, have been assigned rooms and sleeping quarters in various parts of the city, it was estimated by Chamber of Commerce officials Monday.

Telephone requests for accommodations began to pour in from all parts of the country Monday. Local persons who, waited until this week to reserve rooms have found that every hotel is filled to capacity.

Three-fourths of the visitors here will be men, O'Brien says, and many of them will be taken care of in the parlors and ballrooms of hotels where cots are to be placed by the management.

IRONTON EXCELS IN FOOTBALL

The Ironton Register says: Ironton excels all others in football. Huntington, Portsmouth, Jackson, Wadsworth and other cities bow before our prowess. Saturday and Sunday were surely Ironton days. The high school team, after getting a half start, humbled the Portsmouth school team, by a score of 22 to 12. The Tanks set the Huntington crowd back 18 to 7 and the Panthers defeated the Portsmouth Giants 6 to 0. Now here we are sitting on top of the world in athletics. Let's get a little of this spirit in our civic undertakings and show the other cities hereabouts just what kind of folk we are.

MICHIGAN TO HAVE 16,000 ROOTERS WHEN TEAM PLAYS STATE SATURDAY

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 18.—President Marion L. Burton, and Athletic Director Fielding H. Yost of the University of Michigan, today called upon students to cease betting on intercollegiate sports, especially football games. Intense interest in Saturday's game with Ohio State, it was said had led to many big wagers.

The practice, the students were told interferes with the progress of clean college athletics and stimulates ill feeling and destructive criticism, is of no aid to the team and substitutes commercialism for sportsmanship.

When the Wolverines go to Columbus this week end, they will be accompanied by more than 16,000 undergraduates, alumni and other supporters.

A thousand others unsuccessfully sought to secure tickets here.

Smoke Shop Strollers Play Eagles Sunday

The Smoke Shop Strollers of New Boston will play their first game of the season against the Ironton Eagles Sunday, October 22 at Millbrook Park at 2 p. m. The following men will probably be in the lineup:

King, Colquhoun, Stamper, McCormick, Corn, Bonella, Mays, Burns, Oakes, Slattery, Pierce, Doley, Elliot, Dailey, Scamone, Gray, Davis, Gregory.

Tickets are on sale at the following places:

Smoke House, Play House, Tod Cropper, Crystal Palace, A. Knittle, New Boston, Tracy Miles, American Lunch Room, New Boston, Smoke Shop, New Boston, 18-51MS —Advertisement

WILL DECLARE HALF HOLIDAY

COLUMBUS, O., October 18.—Mayor Thomas has announced that he would issue a proclamation declaring next Saturday afternoon a half holiday in Columbus because of the dedication of the new Ohio Stadium.

THE BOXSCORE

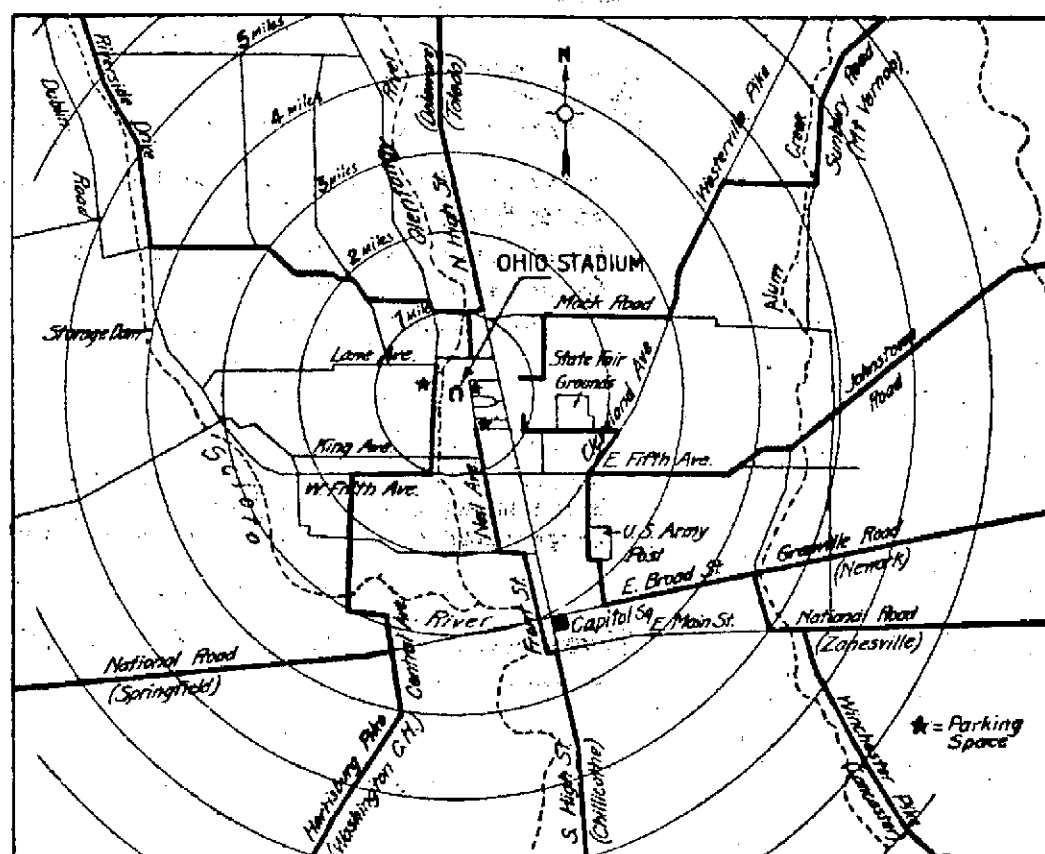

In a fast and well played game on the Peebles arena Sunday, the Otway Black Sox took the measure of the highly touted Tiger nine, reputed champions of Adams and Brown counties, who were curbed at all stages by the sterling pitching of Bending while his mates were attending to the case of John Riffle.

The final count was three to nothing and it was a handsome victory for the Otway gang. Bending's box work was easily the feature of the combat, he allowing the enemy but five hits and retiring 17 batters over the whiff route. The second base play of Walter Smith was a bright spot on the loser's side.

Are You Going To State-Michigan Game? Here Is How You Find Stadium

ANTICIPATING the greatest automobile invasion in the history of Columbus, athletic officials at Ohio State university have prepared the map above to help visiting motorists avoid congested traffic when the new Ohio stadium is dedicated on Oct. 21. Free parking plots in the university district, starred on the map, will accommodate at least 6,000 machines.

Roads around traffic centers directly to the stadium are being placarded by the Columbus Automobile club. Motorists are urged to follow the signs from the city limits into Columbus. In the University district a special force of 100 city and University police will direct the movement of traffic and parking.

Residents of Portsmouth, Chillicothe and Circleville, who will motor to Columbus may reach the Stadium over this direct route:

In Columbus, on South High street to Main street. Turn left on Main street to Front street. Turn right on Front street to Goodale street.

MORE ABOUT PAVING

SPEAKING of what a brick monopoly means to the people who have their street paved, and the people in general who pay for alley and intersection paving, brings to our mind that we citizens who live on Front street have just had our street paved. We have been told that we are lucky to have had the work done this year—that but for the tying up of transportation due to the railroad strike our street, although the contract had already been let, would have gone over until next year. Why? Oh, the paving brick plants had sold their product to outside cities and having Portsmouth in their vest pocket as it were, decided to let Portsmouth Front streeters rot in the mud for another year. But, being unable to ship brick, the Front street job was promptly pushed and brick made for another city was hauled to our street. We are glad this happened, if the story told us be true. For brick going to other cities must stand rigid tests and be of the highest quality, you know. And we are satisfied we got a No. 1 brick on Front street.

But any way we Front street citizens got our street paved with brick, after competitive bidding, all other recognized material being open for bidding.

We got our street paved, thanks to competition with first class brick, cement filler, for $2.33 per square yard.

How much more fortunate we were than the citizens on the Norwood streets, for instance, contracts for which were let for first-class brick Sept. 29, 1920, and who had to pay $4.15 per square yard.

We Front streeters can take a vacation on the $1.82 per square yard, we are saving over the residents of the Norwood streets.

Why our rate of $2.33 for first class brick is even lower than that of the citizens whose property abuts the alley between Highland and Grant paved with brick seconds in 1921, no competitive bidding, at a cost of $3.22 per square yard, or 89 cents more.

Do you citizens and tax payers begin to see now what the driving out of competing material companies mean to you? Contractors will not bid on any material but brick, if they know the board of control will consider nothing but brick, regardless of price. And the poor brick manufacturer of course will shed tears of grief when he realizes that the sky is the limit for him in the matter of price. Boo, Hoo, Hoo—don't you feel sorry too, Mr. Man or Mr. Woman who must pay the taxes?

In concluding for today we wish to say that it was the sturdy, persistent effort of City Engineer George S. Wilhelm that finally made it possible for even competitive material bidding in Portsmouth. He is entitled to praise for that, but there is word that certain interests are slipping out the word that they'll get George's scalp. They are going to "snow him under," according to rumor, in his race for county surveyor and then put on the thumb screws in an effort to have him fired from the city engineer job. We find time to wonder what the republican nominee for county surveyor, Mr. Noel, has to say about this situation.

REPAIRING THE ROADS

ROAD REPAIR work in Scioto county generally gets active in the few weeks preceding elections. That is fine for the republican candidates and more than fine for the citizens who do the "repairing" because their bosses would not for a moment urge them to speed up their work for fear of injuring their tender feelings. Then too it puts lots of tax money into circulation just before winter sets in. So why should the dear people who only have to pay taxes complain?

But aside from such moralizing we noticed in the batch of vouchers published Tuesday that a "whole d—d family" named Slack (just where they live we do not know) seem to be expert road repairers. Thus Alva Slack got $14 for road repair, Ora Slack got $14, Charlie Slack got $21, Freddie Slack got $13, Johnnie Slack got $39.20 and Teddie Slack $9—a total of $100.20. We trust none of the family was overlooked. We mean no reflection upon them for we assume, of course, that they gave value received.

But our county commissioners seem to play favorites in paying. Thus Lovell Altman who worked by the hour only got 30 cents an hour, while John Dunlap, who also worked by the hour got 40 cents an hour. Why?

KISSES AND KICKS

BROTHER Corns, up at Ironton, stopped en route to his office and threw a kiss at himself over the victory of Ironton Hi last Saturday, when they rode over the P. H. S. gridiron outfit. Oh, it's all right Johnnie your eleven was a game, sportsmanlike crowd and you've a right to kiss yourself all you want to over their victory. But as far as we are concerned we would like to give each Portsmouth High warrior a swift kick where it would hurt the most, because they had the game sewed up and had no license to lose.

BULLY FOR DISTEL

CHIEF of Police Joseph S. Distel set a splendid example when in entering upon an active campaign for election as sheriff on the Democratic ticket, he secured leave of absence as chief of police, without pay, until after election. This is no reflection upon other candidates, for Mr. Distel was in a peculiar position. He had it in his power to influence many votes in his behalf, through the office he occupied. He waived this voluntarily, preferring to meet his opponent fairly and evenly. And we want to go on record here to the statement that we believe Joe Distel has made an efficient, honest, square chief of police. We believe he will make an even better record as sheriff of Scioto county, if elected.

SENATOR POMERENE

OHIO'S senior senator has been among us and spoken. There is but one judgment—he is honest and fearless.

Higher tribute can not be paid a man in these days of shuffling and cowardice in public position.

It is true there are those that do not altogether agree with the course Atlee Pomerene as senator, but why should that matter? These are days of many and complex situations. Men may well and honestly disagree on some of them—it is a matter of impossibility for any representative, no matter how adroit, to so trim his course as to earn the favor of all at the time.

Then why not the man who trims not at all, but is simply honest and unafraid? He who is honest will take the course as appears best to him, he who is not afraid is surest to be most often right.

Especially, if in character and mind he be as Atlee Pomerene, who possesses unusual ability, who is steady and calm and just naturally moderate and fair.

After all, though, the finest thing in Senator Pomerene is that he has that undefinable quality that makes people admire and have faith in him. He is totally devoid of those tricks by which popularity is cultivated, never in the slightest does he attempt to exploit himself, but the people of Ohio understand him, they trust him, and that is the reason why he is going to be elected.

SAYS WE'RE NO DEMOCRAT

A wrathful Democratic citizen, who signs himself "A member of the city administration" writes us that he always knew we were no democrat and after reading our editorial on our Mayor and Second street paving, he was sure of it. We recognize the writer and still in spite of his weighty denunciation, we insist on being a democrat and in voting the democratic ticket. The only difference between our friend and us is that we have always been on the fighting and contributing end in campaigns and not asking for anything while he has always been in the cellar when the campaign shot was flying and on the house top shouting for the lion's share of the spoils when the victory was won. And so, good night to you, my friend.

Seeks To Demonstrate "Truth Telling Sleep" On Prisoners

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 18—(By The Associated Press)—Criminals can be forced to tell the truth regarding their offenses during "twilight sleep" according to Dr. E. E. House, Ferris, Texas, physician, who has asked the endorsement of the Medical Association of the Southwest for a proposed experiment on a thousand prisoners in the Leavenworth, Kansas, penitentiary to demonstrate his theory.

Dr. House has been experimenting with the anesthesia for five years, during which he had tried the "twilight sleep" method of securing evidence on a number of alleged criminals and others in his own state he had never failed in any attempt to rob the mind of its stored truths.

"If the 'twilight anesthesia' were properly recognized and used for the purposes suggested," Dr. House continued in his address, "many injustices would become impossible."

The convention was expected to take action on Dr. House's request for its endorsement of his plans for further experiments at its session today.

Candidate Pleads Not Guilty
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 18—Dr. E. E. House, defeated candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination at the August primaries, pleaded not guilty in common pleas court to a charge of violation of the corrupt practices act.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, October 18—In the hell-melting rush of New York, the tragic souls who clutch at life and miss are forgot. Superior young girls who come here to carve their careers and wind up "turning on the gas" are not entirely the dreams of fiction writers.

The drab-brown-stone fronts, once the insignia of aristocracy, but now given over to "room and board," are the havens of those who are struggling valiantly for a foothold. Something about Manhattan breeds false pride. The failures will suffer every hardship to keep the news from loved ones.

Irvin Cobb tells one story of the girl who lived "one block from the avenue." That was her badge of standing in her little home town. They did not know that "one block from the avenue" she lived in a cramped hall room over a dingy bird store. And cooked over a feeble gas jet.

A pale young woman who was found suffering from malnutrition and later died in a hospital had spent her last penny for monogrammed stationery with address "emphasized in gold to keep her friends in an Illinois town from knowing the truth. She had spent seven months in quest of work.

George Jean Nathan and H. L. Mencken the literary Siamese twins of the Smart Set, have an office that is declared by one chronicler to be the funniest in town. The decorations smack of religious themes and burlesque shows. Hard by a picture of a musical revue chorus is a photograph of Mencken as a monk with the inscription "I'm magnetic!" Mencken works in the mornings and Nathan sleeps until noon and goes to his grind in mid-afternoon. To his grind they see little of each other and so remain fast friends even in business affairs.

Talented Edith Day has returned to a Broadway musical show after her sudden disappearance from the Alito several years ago when she was at the pinnacle of fame in "Irene." In London she was the reigning sensation, despite the do-mestic cloud and subsequent scandal that flared forth in the newspapers. Her first night back home was proof

When anything does happen it come out all right it's just like Andie for the pessimist. "Well, if he had any good qualities we ought to hear about 'em now," said old Miles Turner, Uday, when he heard Tipton Bud's father was dead.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING—BY BRIGGS

COMPENSATION

(By Grace G. Bostwick)
If life had been an easy thing. Then I had never learned to sing; If love had jeweled all my ways I scarce had known these golden days; If grief had never touched my brow, I ne'er had been so blessed now.

But life was hard and so I sang: With wistful hope each measure rang: The lonely days so cruel to bear, Taught me my brother's lead to share; And sorrow tried me but to prove How sweet the hard-learned lesson—love!
